Composition

Media is made with varying amounts and sizes of abrasive grain. Consequently, media that removes material quickly imparts a duller matte finish. Conversely, media that imparts luster and bright surface finishes cuts more slowly. Gravalon-II is our popular general-purpose media, with good surface finishing and good material removal properties. Scaled 1-6, look for a high SF number for surface finishing, or a high MR number for faster metal removal.

Gravalon-II®

Green in color and our most popular all-purpose resin media. Narrow your search to Gravalon-II for a general-purpose composition. SF-3, MR-3

Gravalon®

Light green or gray with a better cut than Gravalon-II and a slight trade-off in wear and surface finishing. Use Gravalon when edge radii or burr removal take precedence over surface finish. SF-2, MR-4

Superbrite®

Blue in color with better surface finishing and wear characteristics than Gravalon-II, and a slight trade-off in stock and burr removal. Use Superbrite when surface finishes are a priority. SF-4, MR-2

Gravalite-II®

Colored light brown Gravalite-II is a high-cut composition ideally suited to deburring and stock removal. It is often used on ferrous metals or as a 1st step media in multi finishing processes. SF-2, MR-5

Lusterwhite®

White media and our longest lasting composition designed to produce the highest luster of all metals. Use Lusterwhite when surface enhancement is the overriding requirement. SF-6, MR-1

Gravalox-II®

Dark brown in color Gravalox-II is our greatest cutting composition. Use when metal removal is a priority. SF-1, MR-6
